Experience contract magic

With Oneflow, you don't have to reinvent the wheel. It suits your existing workflow but showers the benefits on your employees.

One platform for all departments

- No need to have multiple different solutions for the same problem as Oneflow can do the job organization-wide.
- Create controlled workspaces. Set access by role, function etc. Ensure every action is done with purpose as you find your flow.
- Spend less time on admin. Automate your agreements in HR, Sales, Procurement, Finance, and more. Your teams can focus on getting results, not on busy work.
- Improve your existing workflows. No need to change the way you work.

Safe and secure

- Low maintenance. Working with Oneflow doesn't require lots of resources to maintain or upkeep.
- Safe data retention and GDPR compliance.

Why work with digital contracts?

- Every edit and change is made in real-time. Your collaborators see the edits you made, and when. Plus they can communicate with you directly inside the contract. No more messy email threads.
- The HTML format is a live document. Add videos, pictures or whatever best suits your needs. Create a little buzz with your agreements and excite your counterparties.
- Get clarity on each contract. Track signing progress and respond to them to get those deals over the line.
- With the statistical dashboard, you can see the status of all your agreements and get a detailed round-up of everything in one place.

Take it from our customers

They're working wonders with our digital contracts and can tell you firsthand about the benefits they've witnessed.

“Previously, it took at least a month from the first contact to a signed agreement. Now, it can be done in three days. Even though we have fewer resources, we now process a much larger volume of contracts than before.”
